COMPASS ANALYTICS Announces Release of CompassPoint™ 2.0.0 with iPad/iPhone Access to Position, Rate Sheet Generation and New Streamlined Pooling and Hedge Selection Tools

San Francisco, CA - February 24, 2011

Compass Analytics, LLC announced today the successful production release of CompassPoint™ 2.0.0, representing Compass's latest enhancements to its mortgage analytics suite. The release includes new interactive web interfaces for breakthrough workflow efficiencies and interactivity in pooling, allocation, rate sheet, and hedge selection processes, all based on live pricing and Compass's commercial grade analytics. The release extends CompassPoint™ access to Apple mobile devices such as the iPad or iPhone and Android mobile devices. With the new release, clients can save significant time daily and improve accuracy by foregoing internal spreadsheets and using CompassPoint™ for their rate sheet generation, position management and delivery best execution. In addition, with new mobile access, clients will now be able to monitor and refresh positions and update rate sheets directly from their mobile devices.

"The current market environment demands that secondary marketing departments become as efficient and responsive as possible, eliminating unnecessary maintenance tasks and dependencies, and realizing every possible basis point on loan sales and delivery," said Rob Kessel, Managing Partner of Compass Analytics. "Originators of all sizes should be armed with the right analytics to correctly consider all delivery options with sufficient speed and with less concern for location," added Kessel.

Compass Analytics provides valuation and interest rate risk management solutions to mortgage capital markets participants. Compass Analytics licenses its software CompassPoint™ to mortgage originators, servicers and investors on a client or Compass-hosted basis. CompassPoint's™ loan-level models, integrated file mapping, aggregation tools, reporting tools, market and credit inputs, whole loan, structured cash flow and mortgage servicing rights analysis give CompassPoint™ users the competitive advantage in originating, hedging and valuing all mortgage collateral. In addition to licensing CompassPoint™, Compass uses CompassPoint™ internally to provide outsource hedge execution services which draw on Compass' considerable expertise and access to market color.
